Consulting and interim CIO / CTO services: what's included, prices and terms.

I help growing businesses fix the processes and data underneath their technology, then choose and use the right tools. There are two ways to work with me.

Consulting

£1,500 per day + VAT

For one-off projects and focused pieces of work:

- One-off projects and workshops
- Systems and process reviews
- Software and supplier selection
- Transformation roadmaps
- Technology due diligence for acquisitions, investment or sale

Terms

- Invoiced per day worked, payable within 30 days
- Maximum credit of £1,500: the previous day's invoice must be paid before the next day is booked

Interim CIO / CTO

£3,000 per month + VAT

Ongoing senior technology advice, on an advisory basis:

- Up to two days a month
- A monthly meeting to go through findings and progress
- Shapes and advises on your technology roadmap
- Advice on IT budget, cyber security and IT hiring
- Board-level reporting and advice
- Technology Readiness Index reviews included

Terms

- Invoiced monthly in advance
- 12-month minimum term, then rolling with six months' notice

What the interim CIO / CTO service doesn't include

The interim CIO / CTO role is advisory: I advise on a wide range of technology decisions, while ownership stays with your business. It does not include:

- Owning or managing your IT budget – I advise on it
- Owning, or legal responsibility for, cyber security and compliance – I review and advise
- Sitting in interviews – I advise on IT hiring and team development
- Acting as an escalation point for IT incidents
- Managing your IT suppliers or managed service provider
- Technology due diligence – available as a consulting service
